

Plagiarism and iThenticate

GBHEM brokers a license each year with Turnitin® for annual conferences who wish to use iThenticate for assessing candidates' paperwork for plagiarism. The following guidelines outline GBHEM's responsibility and the annual conference's responsibility for use of iThenticate.

GBHEM recommends that the following policies are in place before an annual conference uses iThenticate.

GBHEM is responsible for:

1. Negotiating an annual license with Turnitin®
2. Dividing the cost of the license and invoicing participating conferences
3. Providing technical training to annual conference leaders to teach them how to use and administer iThenticate

The annual conference is responsible for:

1. Developing and implementing written policy and procedures for candidates who plagiarize
2. Developing and implementing written policy and procedures for the use of iThenticate
3. Ensuring that candidates, dCOM members, and BOM members understand how the reports from iThenticate will be used
4. Ensuring that all iThenticate users/graders are trained and understand how to use iThenticate
5. Ensuring that all candidates understand the annual conference's plagiarism policy in general and the use of iThenticate specifically
6. Training BOM members and candidates in understanding the reports generated by iThenticate
7. Interpreting the reports generated by iThenticate and communicating those results to the candidates or other necessary individuals involved in the process
8. Making decisions related to candidates based on iThenticate's reports

Please note: As with any assessment process for candidates or clergy, iThenticate should be used consistently with all candidates. Treating different candidates in different ways may put an annual conference at risk for violation of fair process.
